

NASPI Partnership Opportunity Virtual Work Group Meeting Platform

The North American Synchrophasor Initiative (NASPI) is a collaborative effort between the U.S. Department of Energy and the Electric Power Research Institute (EPRI). NASPI welcomes and appreciates the support of the synchrophasor community at our Work Group meetings. NASPI invites you to partner with us at our upcoming meeting. NASPI partnerships

- fosters an environment that allows collaboration among the participants
- provide valuable networking opportunities
- help reduce costs for our attendees
- can increase product visibility
- provide an opportunity to learn about the needs of synchrophasor community.

NASPI partners will be acknowledged throughout the meeting and have an opportunity to give a 20-minute presentation. Currently, during our virtual meetings NASPI is offering one partnership level: Silver. The following table summarizes the fee, the number of registrations included for individuals to participate in the NASPI Work Group meeting, signage benefits, and exposition opportunities for this level. We hope to offer more packages post-pandemic when we return to face to face meetings.
